To Whom It May Concern

Recently Golding Family Builders undertook a most difficult renovation project at our family home in Beaumont.

This is the third project that the 'Goldings' have completed for us over the past 12 years, although this one was by far the most challenging.

May we say how pleased and delighted with are with the development and in the manner in which it was completed by Ben and Terry of "Goldings".

The project called for very careful planning and costing analysis to achieve the final result.

Considering that the project called for virtually a 70% demolition of the inside of the home and was further complicated by us and our two dogs living in the home during the project we believe the result was outstanding.

We would have no hesitation in recommending "Golding Family Builders" for any building project and we would be pleased to add further verbal recommendation to any person requiring additional confirmation of this companies ability to build 'on time' and 'on budget' high quality residential projects.

Yours faithfully
